

How smarter assessment can transform risk into opportunity

In this session we shared that ...

- Fragmented systems and siloed data prevent you from identifying priorities that will deliver the greatest impact.
- It's impossible to accurately predict risk without financial and clinical targets aligning.

... and you need a system that:

- Shows clinical and financial performance on a single platform, both across your population and at the individual level
- Identifies health gaps and specific actions needed to close them, incorporating behavioral analytics

HealthPredict is a powerful strategic planning tool that helps you get the most out of every healthcare dollar spent.

CONSIDER THIS

- Why focus only on scoring risk when you could also identify opportunity to reduce risk?
- Are you currently targeting clinical interventions to the people with the greatest modifiable gaps, who are also most likely to engage? If not, are you achieving your targets?
